

Peace

By Ekkalux Nguyen

Peace is what we all need
Flying upon the seven seas
Why destroy when we could create
Keep the peace; erase the hate
Reflections of the deep blue sea
Skimming across serenity
Winds blow from left to right
The breeze preventing the fight
Trees wither and fade away
Many die and reborn today
Sun emits a radiant shine
Ringing a tranquility chime
All races, all colors. under the sun
Join hands together; have some fun
Calm and soothe; triumph all
Hatred repelled by a wall
Apologize when you are wrong
It will show that you are strong
Peace is just like Yin and Yang
Blow the evil like a fan
Light and dark are in disorder
Keep the two outside a border
As I look around the world I think and sigh
We could at least give peace a try
