A free press and a well-informed populace are crucial to a viable democracy. Sonoma State sociology professor Peter Phillips, DVC history professor Mickey Huff and student assistants will talk about some of the 25 issues of social significance chosen for the Project Censored 2009 book that aren't getting the news coverage that they deserve. This year the Project is reporting on many issues including Iraqi Deaths Caused by US Occupation, Human Trafficking, Dirty Wars in Latin America and Worldwide Slavery.

Project Censored is a media research group associated with Sonoma State University that has been tracking the news published in independent journals and newsletters for 32 years. From these, Project Censored compiles an annual list of 25 news stories of social significance that have been overlooked, under-reported or self-censored by the country's major national news media.

Peter Phillips, is Professor of Sociology at Sonoma State University and Director of Project Censored.
